

The Bulletin

Issue Number 5
Oct. 24, 2005

A publication for the campus community

State University of New York College at Cortland

Top Video Analysis Firm Creates Regional Training Center at SUNY Cortland; Dedication Set for Oct. 28

SUNY Cortland and Dartfish USA have announced a strategic partnership that will allow the College to incorporate cutting-edge digital video analysis software across the entire campus and establish SUNY Cortland as the company's Northeast Regional Training Center.

An invitation-only ribbon cutting and dedication will be held at 1 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 28, in the Sport Media and Technology Learning Center's (SMTLC) lab located in Studio West, Room 128.

Roald Bradstock, a former world record holder and British Olympian in the javelin in 1984 and 1988, will be present to discuss how he uses Dartfish in his training. An internationally recognized sport artist, Bradstock will display some of his works. SUNY Cortland President Erik Bitterbaum and Dartfish

USA President Victor Bergonzoli will also provide remarks.

"This partnership is a win-win situation for everyone," said Bergonzoli. "We are excited about the opportunity to work with a dynamic academic institution such as SUNY Cortland to establish a valuable training center and enhance teaching, learning and coaching throughout the College and the region."

Dartfish specializes in sport coaching, broadcast, physical education and exercise science applications. The Swiss-based company with U.S. headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., is hoping to expand its reach into other areas.

Beginning at 2 p.m. in Studio West, six thematic demonstrations will apply the latest Dartfish software to physical

Continued on page 9

Eight Justices Will Visit Campus During College's Alumni Judges Day on Oct. 31

Eight SUNY Cortland graduates, who are current or former judges, will return to campus on Monday, Oct. 31, for the inaugural SUNY Cortland Alumni Judges Day, a daylong series of meetings and panel discussions with Cortland students and faculty that will be capped with an afternoon presentation in Corey Union open to the general public.

The participants, who will share their firsthand experiences with the judicial system at the federal, state and/or the local levels are:

- William B. Braatz '52, a former County Court, Surrogate Court, Family Court, and acting Supreme Court judge;
- Edward D. Carni '82, a New York State Supreme Court judge;
- Kevin M. Dowd '71, a New York State Supreme Court judge;
- Lawrence Knipel '74, a Kings County Supreme Court judge;
- Theodore A. McKee '69, a SUNY Cortland Distinguished Alumnus Award recipient and a U.S. Court of Appeals, Third Circuit, judge;
- John B. Pessala '71, a Nassau County Family Court judge;
- James C. Tormey III '72, an administrative judge for the State of New York, 5th District; and

- Frank J. Wawrzaszek '52, a SUNY Cortland Distinguished Alumnus and a Division 1 Hearing Officer for the Michigan Schools.

During the day, the judges will meet with political science and sociology professors, pre-law students, Student Government Association officers, and students and faculty from the Institute for Civic Engagement and American Democracy project. The alumni will also speak to the following classes: American Presidency, Introduction to Sociology, Contemporary Moral Problems, and Academic Writing in the Community.

At 4:25 p.m. in Corey Union Exhibition Lounge, the combined group will participate in a panel presentation titled, "From Cortland to the Judiciary – Perspectives on Public Service and Judicial Careers from Eight Cortland Alumni Judges."

Jerome O'Callaghan, political science, will moderate the event, which is free and open to the public.

Alumni Judges Day is organized and funded by the Division of Institutional Advancement. Additional sponsors include the President's Office, the Alumni Affairs Office, the Institute for Civic Engagement and the American Democracy Project. For more information, contact Michael Katz, institutional advancement, at ext. 5516.

Homecoming/Community Weekend Set for Oct. 27-30

Homecoming/Community Weekend 2005 takes place Oct. 27-30 and will feature the Cortland C-Club Hall of Fame inductions, a football game against Western Connecticut, a students vs. staff basketball game and more.

On Thursday, Oct. 27, the weekend will open with a at 6 p.m. in the Corey Union Function Room. A lip sync contest will take place at 8 p.m. in the Function Room.

A pep rally and Dragon Olympics will begin at 7 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 28, in the Stadium Complex

On Saturday, Oct. 29, the men's and women's swimming and diving teams will host the Cortland Sprint Relays beginning at 11 a.m. in the Park Center Holsten Pool.

At 1 p.m., Cortland takes on Western Connecticut in football at the Stadium

Continued on page 6

Inside

- 2 SEFA Campaign Ends Oct. 28
- 3 Native American History Month to Be Celebrated
- 4 Recreation Conference Set for Nov. 3-4
- 5 20th Anniversary of Gospel Choir Festival
- 10 News Briefs
- 11 Faculty-Staff Activities
- 12 Coming Events

SEFA Campaign Continues Through Oct. 28

The SUNY Cortland 2005-06 State Employees Federated Appeal (SEFA) campaign, which relies on state employee volunteers to canvass co-workers for donations, will continue until Friday, Oct. 28.

The only authorized fund-raising campaign among state workers, SEFA is directed by United Way of Cortland County and shares fund-raising efforts for a group of agencies united under a common umbrella.

This year's theme is "Join the SEFA Team: The New York Givers," according to Cortland campus SEFA Campaign Chair Sharon Todd, recreation and leisure studies.

For the 2005-06 campaign, the College will offer incentives for employees who donate to the SEFA campaign. At the end of the campaign, a drawing for four prizes will take place. First prize is a guaranteed parking space on campus in the parking lot closest to the winner's building. To enter, an employee must pledge at least $104 for the 2005-06 campaign.

Three Auxiliary Services Corporation (ASC) gift cards for $25 each will be given as second prize. To enter, an employee must pledge at least $25 for the 2005-06 campaign.

As an additional incentive, the United Way for Cortland County is holding a Dollar Challenge. To become eligible to win a 2005 Dodge Neon, donors need to give just $2 more per week than they did last year or pledge at least $104 as a first-time donor. Five additional weekly prizes will be awarded. Those qualified for these drawings include new donors giving $1 week, or repeat donors giving an additional $1 per week more than they did last year. Existing members of the Leadership Giving Program, who have made an annual donation of $500 or more, or new Leadership Givers automatically qualify for all prize drawings. To be eligible for the Dollar Challenge, SEFA donors must give all or part of their donations to United Way for Cortland County and/or member agencies.

Participants can choose to have their gifts shared among different organizations within the county where they work, used in another county of their choice, or designated for individual local, state, independent or international organizations.

SUNY Cortland C-Club Hall of Fame Will Induct Seven New Members Oct. 29

Seven new members will be inducted into the SUNY Cortland C-Club Hall of Fame during its 37th annual banquet and ceremonies on Saturday, Oct. 29, in Corey Union.

The 2005 honorees are:

- Phyllis Calogero '52, a longtime coach, teacher and administrator at Proctor High School in Utica, N.Y., and the Rome (N.Y.) City School District.
- C. Glenn Stevens '54, a standout baseball and soccer player at Cortland and longtime teacher, coach and administrator at Stockbridge Valley Central School in Munnsville, N.Y.;
- Robert Lalley '66, a cross country All-American at Cortland and an educator and coach in North Syracuse, N.Y.;
- Garth Tymeson '75, an exceptional baseball pitcher for the Red Dragons and a professor and administrator at the University of Wisconsin - La Crosse;
- Linda Case '77, the director of athletics at SUNY Brockport and a track and field athlete at Cortland;

Fall 2005 Bulletin Schedule

Issue Date	Deadline
	Monday	Tuesday
#6	Nov. 7	Nov. 1
#7	Nov. 21	Nov. 15
#8	Dec. 5	Nov. 29

- Jefferson Holden '84, a six-time All-America diver, the 1984 NCAA Division III one-meter diving national champion and distinguished major in the U.S. Marine Corps;

- and posthumous honorary inductee James "Doc" Councilman, Cortland's swimming coach from 1952-57 and swimming coach at six-time national champion Indiana University.

In addition to Saturday night's official ceremony, the inductees also will be introduced at halftime of the Cortland-Western Connecticut State football game earlier that afternoon.

Established in 1969, the C-Club Hall of Fame recognizes Cortland alumni who competed as athletes at the College and who have since distinguished themselves in their professions and within their communities. Honorary members are recognized for their long and significant contributions to SUNY Cortland athletics.

New C-Club members have been added annually and this year's ceremony will bring the Hall of Fame roster to 182 alumni and 20 honorary members.

For more information, contact Sports Information Director Fran Elia at ext. 6171.

ASC Appoints Jeffrey Johnson as Controller

Jeffrey Johnson of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, started Oct. 10 as controller of the Auxiliary Services Corporation (ASC), a not-for-profit organization that provides dining, retail, vending and other ancillary services to SUNY Cortland students, faculty and staff.

He previously directed finance and administration for TEP Bedding Group, a manufacturer of mattresses and other bedding products in Chagrin Falls, and has more than 25 years of accounting and finance experience.

As ASC controller, he is responsible for all fiscal oversight of ASC finances and accounts and the 100 agency accounts for the Student Government Association, various student clubs and other campus groups. Reporting to ASC Executive Director Dana Wavle, Johnson will also oversee the Customer Service Department, which handles all customer questions and deposits.

Before joining TEP Bedding Group in 2004, Johnson served one year as campaign coordinator for United Way of Geauga County in Chardon, Ohio, having successfully coordinated an employer's United Way fundraising drive for 15 years.

From 1986-2002, Johnson was corporate controller for CMI Group of Companies, Bainbridge, Ohio. He served as corporate accounting manager for Life Technologies, Inc., of Chagrin Falls, from 1984-1986. He previously served the company as tax and senior accountant since 1977.

Johnson has a B.S. in Business Administration from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.

He has been a volunteer for a raptor study for the Cleveland MetroParks and for Habitat for Humanity. He is in the process of relocating to the area with his wife, Edie, and daughter, Rebecca.

The Bulletin is published by the Institutional Advancement Office at State University of New York College at Cortland and distributed to faculty, staff and students. The Bulletin contains official College announcements, news reports and notices of campus events.

The Bulletin may be viewed online at www.cortland.edu/images/Bulletin.pdf.

Information for The Bulletin should be sent to Wendy Brooks, editor, Publications and Electronic Media Office, Studio West, Room B-18, P.O. Box 2000, Cortland, NY 13045.

The Bulletin will next be published Monday, Nov. 7. The deadline for copy for that issue is 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 1. All articles must be typewritten. Articles of more than 50 words should be submitted in Microsoft Word format by e-mail to bulletin@cortland.edu.

Onondaga Nation Author and Professor Will Open Native American History Month

Eric Gansworth of the Onondaga Nation, a professor of English and the Lowery Writer in Residence at Canisius College in Buffalo, will speak and read from his writings on Wednesday, Oct. 26.

Gansworth will give a reading of and talk about his latest 2005 novel Mending Skins at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Main Brown Auditorium.

The talk is sponsored by the Native American Studies Committee during the College's celebration of Native American History Month from Oct. 15-Nov. 16. All events are free and open to the public.

An enrolled member of the Onondaga Nation, Gansworth was born and raised at the Tuscarora Indian Nation in Western New York.

Gansworth's work is a commentary on the oral tradition existing within Haudenosaunee culture and its fluid nature. He uses iconography recognizable in the context of the mythic Haudenosaunee world, yet alters it to reflect issues relevant to a more contemporary Haudenosaunee existence.

He began his creative work as a visual artist and eventually expanded to narrative as a way of furthering the storytelling he had developed visually. Paintings are featured as integral parts of their narratives in many of his works, including his first novel, Indian Summers (1998), a collection of poetry and paintings titled Nickel Eclipse: Iroquois Moon (2000), and his second novel, Smoke Dancing (2004). All three were published by Michigan State University Press.

His short fiction has appeared in the anthologies, Growing Up Native American (Morrow), Blue Dawn, Red Earth (Doubleday) and Iroquois Voices, Iroquois Visions (Bright Hill), The Second Word Thursdays Anthology (Bright Hill), Stories for Winter Nights (White Pine), Fishing for Chickens (Persea), and Nothing but the Truth: An Anthology of Native American Literature (Prentice Hall), and in Quartet, a Just Buffalo Literary Center, Inc. chapbook, or low-cost hard copy production.

His poetry has been included on Roadkillbasa, a performance audiotape; in the journals Blueline, Shenandoah, The Cream City Review, Slipstream, phati'tude; in UCLA's American Indian Culture and Research Journal; and in the anthology, Children of the Dragonfly (University of Arizona Press).

Gansworth's first piece of creative non-fiction appears in the anthology Genocide of the Mind (The Nation Books). He is a member of the

Continued on page 8

Classified Service Awards Announced

Classified staff members will be recognized for their years of service to the College.

Details about the 36th annual Service Awards Luncheon, to be held on Friday, Dec. 2, will follow at a later date.

This year's classified service award recipients are listed below. Employees who have 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 or 35 years of service at SUNY Cortland should confirm that their names appear on this list. Questions or changes should be addressed to Karen Thompson, human resources, at ext. 2302. Supervisors are asked to confirm that their employees are listed as they will not be contacted individually.

35 Years

Bruce Drowne, administrative computing services

30 Years

No awardees

25 Years

Julie Crandall, university police
Michael Partigianoni, equipment room
Laurie Pepper, library
Denise Riley, economics
Kevin Russell, service group

20 Years

Naomi Benjamin, geography and philosophy
Vivian Cross, residential services
Gary Lawrence, transportation
Susan Teeter, arts and sciences
John Young, structural maintenance

15 Years

Walter Anderson, structural maintenance
Susan Bush, library
Patricia Brown, custodial services
George Crannell, structural maintenance
Judah Currie, structural maintenance
Susan Miller, physical plant
Mary Murphy, university police
Steven Nitti, grounds
William Robertson, heating plant
Mark Taylor, physical plant
Michael Zhe, mail services/central warehouse

10 Years

Dawn Bulmer, payroll
Vicki Clark, custodial services
Darlyne Gimbert Kinner, environmental health and safety
Diana McGee, Student Development Center

Community Roundtable on Nov. 3 Features Economic Impact of Healthcare Providers

A representative from a local hospital and another from an economic development agency will discuss "How Does Healthcare Drive the Local Economy?" during a community roundtable on Thursday, Nov. 3.

The roundtable takes place between 8-9 a.m. in the Park Center Hall of Fame Room. Sponsored by the President's Office and the Center for Educational Exchange, the event is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served at 7:45 a.m.

Mark Prus, arts and sciences, will moderate the discussion. The panelists are: Linda Dickerson Hartsock, executive director of the Cortland County Business Development Corporation/Industrial Development Agency; and Brian Mitteer, president and chief executive officer of Cortland Memorial Hospital.

A question-and-answer period will follow the presentation.

Corporate surveys consistently receive feedback that a state-of-the-art healthcare system is a critical factor in attracting employers and employees. An investment in quality healthcare creates a healthy, quality community that goes hand-in-hand with economic development. Panelists will discuss how Cortland's community-based healthcare programs, coupled with biotechnology programs, research at higher education institutions and proximity to a medical university center make the area ripe for significant economic growth.

Hartsock plans to review the area's healthcare services from an economic development perspective and discuss the Department of Labor statistics indicating trends in the healthcare sector.

"There are two reasons this topic is pertinent in Cortland County today," Hartsock said. "We have a growing aging population who will increasingly need quality healthcare. Second, if you look at every economic indicator, healthcare is one of the strongest sectors in terms of job growth in the coming years. We have excellent local resources, including a community hospital and a very strong medical infrastructure. Regionally, we have access to Cornell University's Center for Advanced Technology and Life Sciences."

"The future viability of a community-based hospital such as Cortland Memorial Hospital depends on the stability of the local area's economy, community support and access to resources including personnel, financial, education and tertiary medical care," Mitteer said. "In return, the local hospital provides both quality healthcare and an economic base to the community."

For more information on the Community Roundtable series, contact the Center for Educational Exchange at ext. 4214.

Progressive Radio Show Host to Speak On Campus Nov. 2

Amy Goodman, who hosts and is executive producer of the award-winning national radio talk show "Democracy Now!," will speak on Wednesday, Nov. 2.

She will open her lecture in Old Main Brown Auditorium at 6 p.m. with a half-hour video she produced titled "Independent Media in a Time of War."

Organized by the College's Cultural and Intellectual Climate Committee as part of a year-long arts and lecture series on the theme of "Rights Inalienable in a Time of War," Goodman's lecture and other events are free and open to the public. A book-signing opportunity will be available from 5-5:45 p.m. in the Old Main Colloquium.

Goodman is co-author with her brother, David Goodman, of the national best-seller The Exception to the Rule: Exposing Oily Politicians, War Profiteers, and the Media that Love Them. The book was chosen by independent bookstores as the number one political title of the 2004 election season. The editors of Publishers Weekly selected the volume as one of the top 50 nonfiction books of 2004.

Goodman began her career in community radio in 1985 at Pacifica Radio's New York Station, WBAI, where she produced "Evening News" for 10 years.

In 1996, Goodman helped launch Pacifica Radio's "Democracy Now!," a national daily independent news program that now airs on more than 300 stations in North America. Pioneering the largest public media collaboration in the U.S., the award-winning show is broadcast on Pacifica, community, and National Public Radio stations, public access cable television stations, satellite television, shortwave radio and the Internet.

The show's "War and Peace Report" provides its audience with access to people and perspectives rarely heard in the U.S. corporate-sponsored media, including independent and international journalists, ordinary people from around the world who are directly affected by U.S. foreign policy, peace activists, artists, academics and independent analysts. In addition, the "War and Peace Report" hosts real debates between people who substantially disagree, such as between the White House or the Pentagon spokespeople and grassroots activists.

Goodman and "Democracy Now!" producer Jeremy Scahill went to Nigeria in the late 1990s to create a radio documentary titled "Drilling and Killing: Chevron and Nigeria's Oil Dictatorship." The documentary exposed Chevron's role in the killing of two Nigerian villagers in the Niger Delta,

Continued on page 7

Leisure Education Scholar Will Present Metcalf Lecture at Recreation Conference

Deb Bialeschki, a noted scholar on issues related to women's leisure, outdoor recreation and human development through the organized camp experience, will deliver the prestigious Metcalf Endowment Lecture at this year's 55th annual SUNY Cortland Recreation Conference from Nov. 3-4.

She is the senior researcher for the American Camp Association and professor emeritus in Recreation and Leisure Studies at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. Her talk, "Make a Difference: The Power of Recreation," begins at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 4, in the Corey Union Function Room. Sponsored by the Campus Artists and Lecture Series, the lecture is free and open to the public.

"Leisure Fever: Catch It!" is the theme of the two-day gathering, the nation's oldest continuous collegiate-sponsored recreation education conference. Sponsored by the Recreation and Leisure Studies Department, the conference receives additional support for its Metcalf Lecture from the Metcalf Endowment and the Campus Artist and Lecture Series.

Registration begins at 7:30 a.m. on both Thursday and Friday in Corey Union. The fee is $75 for professionals and $30 for students for both days; $60 for professionals and $25 for students to attend Thursday only; and $65 for professionals and $25 for students to attend Friday only. The additional cost to receive Continuing Education Unit (CEU) credits is $8. The registration fee includes meals. Additional information may be obtained by calling ext. 4939 or online at www.cortland.edu/rec, where the brochure and registration form may be viewed or printed.

The conference will offer more than 40 educational sessions and practical workshops on recreation management, therapeutic recreation, outdoor recreation, programming and youth development.

Approximately 400 recreation professionals and college recreation majors are expected to participate in the conference. Topics will include ultra-light backpacking, winter recreation, environmental education through youth gardening, the latest and best in outdoor gear, high ropes

Continued on page 8

Broadway Musical "Sweet Charity" Opens Oct. 28

The Performing Arts Department will present the Broadway musical comedy favorite "Sweet Charity" for six performances between Oct. 28 and Nov. 6 in the Dowd Fine Arts Theatre.

This dance-filled show, based on a book by Neil Simon with music by Cy Coleman and lyrics by Dorothy Fields, is about the optimistic dance-hall hostess Charity Hope Valentine, played by Christina Laschuk, who searches for true love in New York City in the 1960s.

Filled with such song hits as "Hey Big Spender," "If They Could See Me Now," "I'm a Brass Band" and "Where Am I Going?," "Sweet Charity" is the quintessential Broadway jazz dance musical. It is loosely based on a classic 1957 Italian film, Federico Fellini's Nights of Cabiria. The stage musical version opened on Broadway in 1966 with dancing star Gwen Verdon as Charity and was directed and choreographed by Bob Fosse. The 1969 film version, also staged by Fosse, featured Shirley MacLaine as Charity. A popular 1986 revival on Broadway starred Debbie Allen as the heroine. "Sweet Charity" is currently on Broadway again with Christina Applegate as Charity.

The SUNY Cortland production is directed and choreographed by Kevin Halpin with musical direction by David Neal, both of performing arts. The scenic design is by Howard Lindh, performing arts, the costumes by Travis Lope, and the lighting by Joel Pape, performing arts.

Also featured in the cast are Melanie Richman and Nicolina Sciascia as Charity's pals Helene and Niki, William Thomas as her boss Herman, Eric Woolf as the nerdy Oscar, Joshua Williams as the preacher Daddy Brubeck, and Dick Baker as the Italian movie star Vittorio Vidal.

Performances of "Sweet Charity" are Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m., with Sunday matinees at 2 p.m. Ticket prices are $14 for the general public, $12 for senior citizens and SUNY faculty and staff and $7 for all students. Tickets are on sale at Jodi's Hallmark Shop on Main Street, Cortland, and at the door before each performance.

A special dinner-theatre package is being offered by the Center for Educational Exchange on Nov. 5. The program includes a talk on Cy Coleman by theatre historian-author Thomas Hischak, performing arts, a themed "New York dinner," and prime location seats to the performance. Reservations for the dinner-theatre program can be made by calling ext. 4214.

Interfaith Lecture Will Examine Peace Building in Israel and Palestine

Rabbi Yehezkel Landau, who has spent more than 25 years in Israel intimately involved with a number of efforts to build peace and understanding between Israelis and Palestinians, will lecture on "Grassroots Peacebuilding in Israel/Palestine" on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

Landau, who lectures internationally on issues of religion and politics and Middle East peacemaking, will present the 13th Memorial Lecture in Honor of John Galipault and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Crumb at 7:30 p.m. in Corey Union Exhibition Lounge. Galipault and the Crumbs were instrumental in forming the Interfaith Association, which is sponsoring the event. Refreshments will be served during the talk. The lecture is free and open to the public.

A faculty associate in interfaith relations at Hartford Seminary in Connecticut, Landau will give an account of his years of peace work, as well as discuss the prospects and needs for peace today.

"The architects of the Oslo framework were well-meaning political leaders who tried to strike a deal that would bring about the establishment of a Palestinian state in the West Bank, Gaza, and East Jerusalem in return for guarantees ensuring Israel's security and acceptance by the Arab world," Landau said. "That exchange sounds reasonable, but something got distorted in the translation from vision to reality."

Landau points to a breakdown of trust between the two sides.

"But there was, in my view, a more fundamental problem, a 'congenital defect' in the Oslo concept," said Landau, referring to "a rationalist assumption of how the conflict could be resolved. The negotiators were secular nationalists who tried to impose a 'secular' peace plan on a holy land whose inhabitants include many people motivated by religious passions. Since the religious militants on both sides were effectively shut out of the negotiating process, they have done their best to sabotage the outcome."

The rabbi will share his thoughts on solutions to the current dilemma.

Landau currently oversees the Hartford Seminary's Building Abrahamic Partnerships, an interfaith training program for clergy, religious educators and seminarians from the three Abrahamic faith traditions. The initiative is supported by grants from the William and Mary Greve Foundation and the Alan B. Slifka Foundation.

He is also co-director of Open House, a center for Jewish-Arab reconciliation and co-existence in Ramle, Israel.

From 1991-2003, he was an active faculty associate in interfaith relations at Hartford Seminary. He taught courses in Jewish spirituality, the Hebrew Bible and religion and peacemaking.

He also added a Jewish voice to internal discussions at the Seminary, while serving as liaison with the local Jewish community and outreach educator to local synagogues, churches and mosques. Landau coordinated the "Building Abrahamic Partnerships" training program for Jewish, Christian, and Muslim clergy, religious educators and seminarians.

He also co-founded and was international relations director for Open House Center for Jewish-Arab Co-existence in Ramle, Israel. His responsibilities included program planning, fundraising, developing an international support network, speaking before groups in Israel and abroad and writing material for English publications and Web sites.

From 1982-1991, he was executive director of the Oz veShalom - Netivot Shalom, the religious Zionist peace movement in Israel. Landau directed the staff, raised funds for the movement's activities, and represented the group in writing and in person before groups and the news media.

Since 1981, he has served as lecturer on Judaism and interfaith relations at several Christian institutions in Israel, including the Tantur Ecumenical Institute, St. George's College, the Sisters of Zion international study program at Ecce Homo, the Swedish Theological Institute, and Nes Ammim village in the Galilee.

Continued on page 9

20th Anniversary Gospel Choir Festival to Be Held on Campus Nov. 6

The 20th annual African American Gospel Music Festival, featuring five guest choirs, will be held on Sunday, Nov. 6.

The festival, hosted by the SUNY Cortland Gospel Choir, will begin at 4 p.m. in Old Main Brown Auditorium. Admission is free and open to the public.

The President's Office and the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs Office will sponsor a reception in the Old Main Mezzanine following the festival.

President Erik J. Bitterbaum will extend the welcome on behalf of the College. Janet A. Hansen, pastor of the Christ Presbyterian Church, will present the invocation. A raffle will be held to support the Gospel Choir Scholarship Fund.

Guest choirs include Binghamton University Gospel Choir, Cornell University's Chosen Generation Gospel Choir, Ithaca College Amani Gospel Choir, SUNY Oswego Gospel Choir and Syracuse University's Black Celestial Choral Ensemble. Choirs will sing a mass choir performance of the ever-popular "Total Praise."

SUNY Cortland's Gospel Choir will open the festival, under the direction of Robert Brown, African American Studies, and a music teacher at Blodgett Elementary School in Syracuse, N.Y. He also serves as music director of the New Life

Community Church in Syracuse. Brown holds a Bachelor of Science in Music Education from SUNY Potsdam Crane School of Music. He completed his Master of Science in Music Education at Syracuse University in 2003. Choir musicians, all from Syracuse, are Andy Rudy, keyboard, Reginald Siegler, bass guitar, and Keith White, percussionist.

SUNY Cortland's selections will include "The Best is Yet to Come" by Donald Lawrence, "My Soul Doth Magnify The Lord," by O'Landra Draper, the spiritual "Ride On, King Jesus," "Rain On Me" by John P. Kee and "Yes" by the Mississippi Mass Choir.

Choir officers this year are Marcos Abad, president, a sophomore from Bronx, N.Y.; Nicole Felitto, vice president, a junior from Sauquoit, N.Y., Sara Beth Roberts, treasurer, a senior from Candor N.Y.; Rose Graham, secretary and tour manager, a junior from Central Islip, N.Y.; and Steven Williams, intern, a junior from Syracuse. Dot Thomas from Cortland continues to serve as alumni officer as she has for many years.

The event began in Spring 1985 when the Cortland County Council of Churches, the Interfaith Center, and the SUNY Cortland Black Student Union joined together and sponsored SUNY Cortland's first African American Gospel

Music Festival. Inaugural choirs for the festival included Syracuse University's Black Celestial Choral Ensemble, the Amani Gospel Choir of Ithaca College, the SUNY Oswego Gospel Choir, and Monroe Community College Gospel Choir of Rochester, N.Y. A small group of SUNY Cortland students took to the stage and sang two numbers, heralding the beginning of what would soon become a highly successful organization.

Over the years, students from England, South America, Germany, Austria and Japan have participated in the choir. This year the choir is represented by members from as far away as Ireland and Japan. In addition to the diverse group of students from SUNY Cortland, members of the community, alumni and SUNY Cortland faculty also participate.

For more information, contact Samuel L. Kelley at kelleys@cortland.edu or Seth Asumah at ext. 2064 or asumahs@cortland.edu, or visit the Gospel Choir Web site at <http://web.cortland.edu/gospelc>.

Scholarship contributions may be made payable to the Cortland College Foundation and referenced to the Gospel Choir Scholarship Fund. The donations may be sent to the Cortland College Foundation, SUNY Cortland, P.O. Box 2000, Cortland, NY 13045.

Homecoming/Community Weekend Set for Oct. 27-30

Continued from page 1

Complex. SUNY Cortland students with an I.D. will be admitted free. Reserved section seating is $8, general admission is $6, and tickets for other college students with I.D., high school students and children are $5.

At halftime, there will be a Pontiac Performance Play car giveaway. Also during the game, a Homecoming King and Queen will be announced and the Cortland C-Club 2005 Hall of Fame inductees will be introduced.

The women's ice hockey team will hold an exhibition game vs. the Troy-Albany Ice Cats at 2 p.m. in the Park Center Alumni Ice Arena.

The C-Club will induct seven new members into its Hall of Fame during the 37th Annual Hall of Fame Banquet, by invitation only, at 6:30 p.m. in the Corey Union Function Room.

At 8 p.m., the new student organization Men of Excellence and Virtue will host its inaugural student vs. staff basketball game in the Park Center Corey Gymnasium. For more information, contact Garry Morgan at move5704@yahoo.com.

On Sunday, Oct. 30, the field hockey team, ranked seventh in the nation, will vie against fifth-ranked The College of New Jersey at 1 p.m. in the Stadium Complex. SUNY Cortland students with an I.D. will be admitted free. General admission tickets are $4, and tickets for other college students with I.D., high school students and children are $3.

For more information or assistance, contact the Campus Activities and Corey Union Office at ext. 2321.

Senate Creates GE Standing Committee

The Faculty Senate voted unanimously to make its General Education (GE) Committee a standing committee during its Oct. 11 meeting the Corey Union Exhibition Lounge.

Since its inception in the 1980s, the GE Committee has functioned as a Senate committee but had never been formally incorporated into the Senate structure. Last year, the Faculty Senate charged the Educational Policy Committee (EPC) in conjunction with the GE Committee to develop committee membership guidelines to include components such as representation, terms of service and ex officio membership.

The 13-member GE Committee will be responsible for coordinating all aspects of the General Education Program.

While working on developing its structure and operation, the EPC recognized the need to formally include the GE Committee as part of any policy change deliberation related to the General Education Program. So, the EPC drafted guidelines for submitting proposals to change or introduce new All-College educational policy. The Faculty Senate unanimously approved those guidelines at its Oct. 11 meeting.

Now, any undergraduate all-College policy proposal which the EPC considers to be a General Education issue will be forwarded to the GE Committee for a recommendation to the EPC.

The newly approved guidelines also identify the scope of EPC operations, and specify campus sources that are eligible to forward proposals to the EPC, the manner in which the EPC seeks campus input on proposals, general operating procedures, and the nature of committee responses to proposals.

Regional High School Students Will Attend Leadership Conference Nov. 2

Approximately 125 students from area high schools who are interested in learning more about leadership skills are expected to attend the 10th annual High School Leadership Day on Wednesday, Nov. 2.

Jointly sponsored by the Center for Educational Exchange and the Career Services and Campus Activities Offices, the event will take place from 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m. in Corey Union.

Designed for students in grades 9-12, school counselors, club advisors, and coaches, the interactive conference has a two-tier program format to address the different needs of both beginner and experienced student leaders.

The conference will offer high school students and their advisors an opportunity to meet students and advisors from other schools, and be inspired by leaders from a variety of career backgrounds.

Local public school educators who will participate include: Amy Johnson, district health coordinator, Cortland City Schools; Bill Lee, teacher, Cortland High School, and lecturer in SUNY Cortland's Childhood/Early Childhood Education Department; and David Rosetti, principal, Marathon High School.

SUNY Cortland faculty and staff who will participate include: Marianglea Chandler, Academic Support and Achievement Program; Kim Dutton, campus activities and Corey Union; Louie Larson, career services; Robyn Forster, counseling and support services; Dan MacNeill, athletics; Brian Tobin, athletics; and Susan Wilson, recreation and leisure studies. Leadership grad student Eric Cielinski and several Lead@Cortland students will also participate.

For more information, contact Karen Seibert, Center for Educational Exchange, at ext. 5660.

Goofs and Goblets Dinner Scheduled

The 12th annual Goofs and Goblets career dining program will be held on Monday, Nov. 7, in the Corey Union Caleion Room.

Sponsored by the Alumni Affairs Office, Career Services Office, Cortland College Foundation and Auxiliary Services Corporation, this program involves local community leaders and administrators who dine with SUNY Cortland students to discuss dining etiquette and interview techniques.

Mark Westfield '78, general manager of operations at the Hempstead Golf and Country Club in Hempstead, N.Y., and a former instructor at the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, N.Y., serves as master of ceremonies. His presentation leads participants through a meal full of difficult-to-eat courses and surprise social "goofs."

All majors and class years are welcome but seating is limited. Education majors are encouraged to attend the spring version of the program geared specifically toward education majors. Students may sign up in the Career Services Office through noon on Nov. 2. Scholarships are available and organizers anticipate all students will be able to attend for free.

Faculty and staff are asked to encourage students to attend this important and fun program.

For more information, contact Lisa Grinnell, career services, at ext. 2224 or by e-mail at grinnelll@cortland.edu or Michelina Gibbons, alumni affairs, at ext. 2516 or by e-mail at gibbonsm@cortland.edu. Contact the Career Services Office at ext. 2224 with special dietary concerns.

Speaker to Discuss Writings of Malcolm X and Martin Luther King Jr.

Vincent F. A. Golphin, a 30-year journalist who currently teaches in the Rochester Institute of Technology Language and Literature Department, will discuss "Malcolm, Martin and the American Social Conscience" on Friday, Oct. 28.

The talk begins at 11:30 a.m. in the Corey Union Exhibition Lounge. Presented by the Center for Multicultural and Gender Studies (MGS), the lecture is free and open to the public.

"Golphin will offer an informative and thought-provoking talk about the relevance of the ideas expressed in the writings of Malcolm X and the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., to address the pressing social issues Americans face today," said MGS Chair Sheila Cohen, literacy. "This speaker will provide insights into how the nation can develop a social conscience to eliminate racism in the 21st century. He is a fine writer as well as an inspirational and dynamic speaker."

He earned his bachelor of arts degree at Sacred Heart Seminary and master's degrees at Athenaeum of Ohio and at the University of Dayton.

At RIT, Golphin teaches writing, African American literature and cultural studies. He is currently managing editor of About...Time Magazine, a national publication based in Rochester, N.Y. He is also the senior writer and editorial consultant for the Pride Newspaper chain, which publishes Rochester Pride, a monthly publication dedicated to news for the African American community.

From 1987-95, the speaker wrote a nationally syndicated column. His writing has appeared in

Amy Goodman, Radio Show Host To Speak

Continued from page 4

who were protesting yet another oil spill in their community. That documentary won the George Polk Award, the Golden Reel for Best National Documentary from the National Federation of Community Broadcasters, and a Project Censored award.

In 1990 and 1991, Goodman traveled to East Timor to report on the U.S.-backed Indonesian occupation there. She and colleague Allan Nairn witnessed Indonesian soldiers gun down 270 East Timorese. Indonesian soldiers beat Goodman and Nairn, fracturing Nairn's skull. Their documentary, "Massacre: The Story of East Timor," won the Robert F. Kennedy Prize for International Reporting, the Alfred I. DuPont-Columbia Award, the Armstrong Award, the Radio/Television News Directors Award, and awards from the Associated Press, United Press International and the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

For more information, contact Kevin Sheets, history, at ext. 2060.

The New York Times, The Washington Post, Washington Living, Upstate New Yorker, Ishmael Reed's Konch Magazine, Christianity Today, The National Catholic Reporter, and Up and Coming Magazine.

In 1999, he had his first book published, Life and Other Things I Know: Poems, Essays and Short Stories. In 2005, he released African American Children's Stories: A Treasury of Tradition and Pride, and Take Two, They're Small, an anthology of poems and other genres on food.

OSP Announces Awards Recipients

Marley Barduhn, international programs, and Deborah Miller, migrant education outreach program, received $986,390 of continued funding from the New York State Education Department for their project, "Migrant Education Outreach Program 2005-06," for the period of Sept. 1, 2005-Aug. 31, 2006.

Marley Barduhn, international programs, and Deborah Miller, migrant education outreach program, received funding in the amount of $47,583 as a subcontract from East Bloomfield School District in conjunction with their existing "Migrant Education Outreach Program 2005-06," for the period of Aug. 15, 2005-Aug. 31, 2006.

Edward Caffarella, education, received continued funding of $31,913 from the New York State Education Department for his project, "Teacher Opportunity Corps 2005-06," for the period of July 1, 2005-June 30, 2006.

Edward Caffarella, education, and Jean Rightmire, Liberty Partnerships Program, received continued funding totaling $296,400 from the New York State Education Department for their project, "Liberty Partnerships Program 2005-2006," for the period of July 1, 2005-June 30, 2006.

Edward Caffarella, school of education, and Michael Ouckama, Access to College Education, received continued funding in the amount of $37,657 from the Access to College Education Consortia through Cornell University for "Access to College Education Program 2005-06," for the period of July 1, 2005-June 30, 2006.

Christopher Cirno, geology, received $100,076 in funding from the National Science Foundation, under the Intergovernment Personnel Act program. He and has been reassigned to serve as a program director for Hydrologic Sciences in the Geosciences Directorate Program, for the period of May 16, 2005-May 15, 2006.

Robyn Forster, counseling center/substance abuse prevention and education, received year-two funding amounting to $82,200 from the New York State Office of Alcoholism and

He is currently working on a book of poems titled Like a Dry Land based on his 14-day visit to Jordan, Syria and Saudi Arabia last June.

The lecture is made possible by a grant from the New York Council for the Humanities and is co-sponsored by the Center for the Arts of Homer, the Cortland-Homer-McGraw Teacher Center, the Cultural and Intellectual Climate Committee and the Cortland YWCA.

For information, call ext. 5784 or send an e-mail to mgs@cortland.edu.

Substance Abuse Services for her project, "Cortland County Communities That Care Coalition Project," for the period of Sept. 15, 2005-Sept. 14, 2006.

R. Lawrence Klotz, Steven Broyles and Peter Ducey, biological sciences, and Laurie Klotz, academic computing, received $148,800 in funding from the U.S. Department of Education Fund for the Improvement of Education (FIPSE) program for "Increasing Teacher Recruitment by Improving Science Education through Application of New Technologies in Biological Research," for the period of Sept. 15, 2005-Dec. 31, 2007.

Elizabeth McCartney, international programs, received funding of $9,181 from NAFSA: Association of International Educators for a project titled "How to Create a Sustainable Study Abroad Program," for the period of Oct. 10, 2005-Oct. 9, 2006.

Christopher McRoberts, geology, received funding of $50,900 from the National Science Foundation for his project titled "Bivalve Richness and Ecological Diversity of the End-Triassic Mass Extinction: Faunal Analysis from the West-Tethyan Lombardy LaSpezia and Kussen Basins (Italy and Austria)," for the period of Sept. 15, 2005-Aug. 31, 2007.

Kevin Sheets, history, received $39,000 in year two funding from the U.S. Department of Education for his project, "Teaching American History Program," for the period of July 1, 2005-June 30, 2006.

Brett Troyan, history, received $13,140 from the United University Professions' Dr. Nuala McGann Drescher Leave Program, for the period of Jan. 1-Aug. 31, 2006.

Gail Wood, library, received funding in the amount of $11,530 from the South Central Regional Library Council for her project titled "Coordinated Collection Development Aid," for the period of July 1, 2005-June 30, 2006.

Onondaga Nation Author Will Open Native American History Month

Continued from page 3

Wordcraft Circle of Native Writers and Storytellers, the Native Writers Circle of the Americas, is listed in the Directory of American Poets and Fiction Writers and in 1999, received a Writer in Residency Award from Just Buffalo Literary Center, Inc.

As an artist, his first solo exhibit, titled "Nickel Eclipse: Iroquois Moon," opened in 1999 at the Olean Public Library. An expanded show opened at the Castellani Museum in 2000. His work has been exhibited across New York State, including the Niagara Arts and Culture Center, the Fanette-Goldman Gallery, the "Keepers of the Western Door" exhibit, co-sponsored by CEPA Gallery and the World University Games, and in a follow-up exhibit at the Castellani Museum.

Gansworth participated in the "Teaching Metaphors" art exhibit at the Niagara County Community College. His work was also included in "Sharing the Visions," at Hartwick College in Oneonta. One of his paintings was the cover of Sherman Alexie's book First Indian on the Moon. Others have been included in the historical text As Long as the Grass Shall Grow and Rivers Flow (Harcourt Brace) the Iroquois Voices, Iroquois Visions anthology (Bright Hill), and the journal, The Cream City Review.

Other Native American History Month Events

- The 2005 film Black Cloud will be shown at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 1, in Brown Auditorium. Black Cloud is the story of a talented Navaho boxer who is fighting for his place in the boxing world and a chance to be an Olympic boxer. Starring Eddie Spears, Rick Schroder and Tim McGraw, the 95-minute film was written and directed by Schroder. Black Cloud is a modest, straightforward but affecting coming-of-age story about a young Navajo with a real talent for boxing but who is also his own worst enemy. A young Navajo man with lethal fists, Black Cloud (Eddie Spears) only feels at home in the boxing ring where he can unleash his pent-up rage over his mother's death, his father's alcoholism and the fact that he himself is not a full-blooded Indian. The movie was filmed in Navajo country and has sequences set in Monument Valley and Canyon de Chelly.

- The 1999 film Naturally Native will be shown at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Nov 8, in Brown Auditorium. The first dramatic film written, directed and produced by and starring Native American women, Naturally Native was written, co-directed and stars Valerie Red-Horse with Irene Bedard and Kimberly Norris. In the movie, the three Native women are on a quest to start a cosmetics business with natural products. The funding they seek to start their venture is complicated by the fact that their tribal registry is not clear. They become involved in a search for their own identities in their hunt for funding.

- Joanne Shenandoah, described by the Associated Press as "the most critically acclaimed Native American singer of her time," will perform in concert at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 16, in Brown Auditorium. Her original compositions combined with a striking voice enable her to embellish the ancient songs of the Iroquois using a blend of traditional and contemporary instrumentation.

In addition to Native American Studies, Native American History Month is sponsored by the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs Office, the Center for Multicultural and Gender Studies, the Auxiliary Services Corporation, the Campus Artists and Lecture Series, Migrant Education Outreach Program, the Interfaith Center and the Cortland College Foundation.

For more information, contact Native American Studies Committee co-chairs Dawn Van Hall at ext. 4890 or Ellie McDowell-Loudan at ext. 2485.

55th Annual Recreation Conference Set for Nov. 3-4

Continued from page 4

adventure education, creating recreational opportunities for children with disabilities, national alliance for youth sports clinician training, outcomes from camp experience, travel tips and therapeutic recreation around the world.

Cortland alumni presenting at this year's conference include: David Ackerson '99, Maureen Baringer '80, Eric Byers '90, Christophe Colebrook '00, Jessica Hatfield Daily '01, Jack Drury '72, Elena Geonie '80, Rhonda Jacobs '01, Penny A. James '95, Laura Kahabka '97, John LaRue '89, Leigh MacDonald '01, Fred von Mechow '77, Meryl Mintz '88, Frank "Snapper" Petta, Jr. '76, Norman Pure Jr. '83, John Silsby '69 and Mike Stevens '88.

The event is planned and directed by recreation and leisure studies majors in the Special Events Planning class, taught by Sharon Todd. The students and the committees they chair are:

- Jessica Anderson of Long Island, N.Y., conference coordinator, budget planning, registration and tracking, exhibit and internship fair;
- Patrick Attoma of Rochester, N.Y., conference coordinator, marketing, registration and tracking, and auction;
- Thomas C. Bourgal II of Long Island, N.Y., program design/ printing, internal services and volunteer coordinator;
- Jessica Felice of Long Island, N.Y., auction, public relations and marketing;
- Jessica Krueger of Naples, N.Y., teaching assistant;
- Stephanie A. Loscalzo of Long Island, N.Y., social services, bulk mailing and public relations;

- Jess Nohle of Adams Center, N.Y., assistant program coordinator, budget planning, registration and tracking, social services and facilities;

- Phil Rogers of Greene, N.Y., social services, program coordinator and special speaker;

- Sara Strong of Norwich, N.Y., public relations and marketing, bulk mailing, internship and exhibit fair; and,

- Nicole Welch of Dansville, N.Y., program coordinator, program design and printing and evaluation.

Bialeschki has presented her work at state, national and international conferences and her scholarship has been published in a variety of research journals. She has co-authored books including Both Gains and Gaps (with Henderson, Shaw, and Freysinger, 1996), Evaluation of Leisure Services (with Henderson, 2002) and Introduction to Leisure Services (with Henderson, Hodges, Hemingway, and Kivel, 2001).

Bialeschki has served as president of the Society of Park and Recreation Educators (SPRE), co-chair of the National Recreation and Park Association's (NRPA)'s Leisure Research Symposium, secretary of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (AAHPERD) Research Consortium, chair of the National Standards Board of the American Camping Association (ACA), co-editor of Leisure Services, editor of Schole, and associate editor of the Journal of Leisure Research and the Journal of Park and Recreation Administration.

Sports Schedule

Capital Letters Denote Home Games

Tuesday, Oct. 25

Women's Volleyball at Geneseo, 7 p.m.

Wednesday, Oct. 26

WOMEN'S SOCCER vs. William Smith, 4 p.m.

MEN'S SOCCER vs. Scranton (Pa.), 7 p.m.

Field Hockey at St. Lawrence, 4 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 28

Men's/Women's Swimming and Diving at Buffalo State, 6 p.m.

Men's Ice Hockey at Lebanon Valley (Pa.), 7 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 29

MEN'S/WOMEN'S SWIMMING and DIVING — CORTLAND SPRINT RELAYS, 11 a.m.

FOOTBALL vs. Western Connecticut St., 1 p.m.

WOMEN'S ICE HOCKEY — Exhibition vs.

Troy-Albany Ice Cats, 2 p.m.

Men's Soccer at Ithaca, 1 p.m.

Women's Volleyball — NYSWCAA Tournament, TBA at Ithaca

Sunday, Oct. 30

FIELD HOCKEY vs. College of New Jersey, 1 p.m.

Women's Volleyball — NYSWCAA Tournament, TBA at Ithaca

Tuesday, Nov. 1

MEN'S ICE HOCKEY vs. Neumann (Pa.), 7 p.m.

Men's Soccer — SUNYAC First Round, TBA

Women's Soccer — SUNYAC First Round, TBA

Thursday, Nov. 3

Field Hockey at Hartwick, 4 p.m.

Friday, Nov. 4

MEN'S ICE HOCKEY vs. Fredonia, 7 p.m.

Women's Volleyball — SUNYAC Tournament, TBA at East Division champion

Men's Soccer — SUNYAC Semifinals, TBA at Hall of Fame Fields, Oneonta

Women's Soccer — SUNYAC Semifinals,

TBA at Hall of Fame Fields, Oneonta

Saturday, Nov. 5

WOMEN'S ICE HOCKEY vs. Buffalo State, non-league, 2 p.m.

MEN'S ICE HOCKEY vs. Buffalo St., 7 p.m.

Wrestling at Ithaca Invitational, 9:30 a.m.

Men's/Women's Swimming and Diving at Ithaca, 1 p.m.

Men's/Women's Cross Country — NYSCTC Meet, TBA at Hamilton

Field Hockey — NYSWCAA Semifinals, TBA

Women's Volleyball — SUNYAC Tournament, TBA at East Division champion

Men's Soccer — SUNYAC Finals, TBA at Hall of Fame Fields, Oneonta

Women's Soccer — SUNYAC Finals, TBA at Hall of Fame Fields, Oneonta

Sunday, Nov. 6

WOMEN'S ICE HOCKEY vs. Buffalo State, non-league, 2 p.m.

Wrestling at Ithaca Invitational, 10 a.m.

Field Hockey — NYSWCAA Finals, TBA

Video Analysis Firm Creates Training Center

Continued from page 1

education, exercise science, coaching, sports medicine and rehabilitation, scientific research and the arts.

The Sport Management Program within the Exercise Science and Sport Studies Department has organized faculty, staff, coaches and student training sessions implementing Dartfish use on campus. Training and certification programs are also planned for external groups.

"Dartfish is one of the most well-respected information technology companies in the sport industry," said SMTLC Director Daniel DePerno, exercise science and sport studies. "We are happy to have them here as part of the SMTLC and on campus. There is a tremendous amount of potential uses for Dartfish in a wide range of academic and professional disciplines."

Dartfish video processing technologies make the invisible visible by comparing, contrasting and revealing the evolution of athletic performances. SimulCam™ and StroMotion™ digital image enhancements have been used in exclusive televised broadcast footage and breakthrough sport training applications. TeamPro 4.0, released in September, combines the digital video analysis tools with a tagging interface that combines video and data for team analysis.

For more information, contact DePerno at ext. 5507.

Interfaith Lecture Will Examine Peacebuilding

Continued from page 5

He has been published extensively in his field of interest. Among other publications, he co-edited and contributed a chapter on "Hebron and Jerusalem: Centers of Inclusive Holiness" to Voices from Jerusalem: Jews and Christians Reflect on The Holy Land (Paulist Press, 1992).

Landau earned a bachelor's and master's degree in social relations from Harvard University. He has a Master of Theological Studies specializing in psychology and theology and in Jewish-Christian relations from Harvard Divinity School. He received that institution's 1990 Katzenstein Award, which is presented to a distinguished alumnus. From 1978-1980, he pursued advanced Judaic studies aided by a Wolfson Scholarship at the Jerusalem Academy of Jewish Studies in Israel.

The lecture is also supported by a Campus Artists and Lecture Series grant, the Jewish Studies Committee, the Center for Multicultural and Gender Studies, the James M. Clark Center for International Studies, and Campus Ministry.

For more information, contact Protestant Campus Minister Donald Wilcox at 753-1002.

Alumni Ice Arena Hours Posted

Lunch Time Ice Skating

Monday-Friday 11 a.m.-noon
Free Admission; $2 Skate Rental

Halloween Glow 'N Dark Ice Skating

First 100 People Receive a Glow 'N Dark Necklace
Monday, Oct. 31 7:30-9:30 p.m.
Admission $2; Children under 5 are free.
Skate Rental $2

Freestyle Skating

Thursdays 7:30-9 p.m.
Admission $15

Open Hockey

Those interested should stop by the Alumni Arena Office or call ext. 4961 and have name, phone number and e-mail added to a list to be contacted when open hockey/stick practice schedules are set.

Sled Hockey

Tuesday and Thursdays 2-3 p.m.
To learn more visit www.usahockey.com/ussha or www.sledhockeyamerica.com

For more information, call ext. 4961

Weekly Student Group Meetings

The following meetings are held weekly throughout the semester unless otherwise noted:

Monday

Black Student Union

Corey Union Voice Office, 7 p.m.

Student Government Association Senate

Corey Union Exhibition Lounge, 7 p.m.

Special Ed Club

Corey Union, Room 209, 8 p.m.

Tuesday

La Familia Latina

Corey Union, Voice Office, 6 p.m.

BACCHUS

Corey Union, Rooms 305-306, 6 p.m.

AIDS Prevention and Awareness Club

Corey Union, Rooms 305-306, 8 p.m.

Wednesday

Hillel

Corey Union, Room 301-03, 5:30 pm

College Republicans

Corey Union, Room 209, 7 p.m.

Democracy Matters

Corey Union, Rooms 204-205, 7 p.m.

Habitat for Humanity

Corey Union, Rooms 305-306, 7 p.m.

Speech and Hearing Club

Corey Union, Rooms 301-303, 7 p.m.

Men of Values and Excellence (M.O.V.E.)

Corey Union Voice Office, 7 p.m.

Brothers and Sisters In Christ (B.A.S.I.C.)

Corey Union Fireplace Lounge, 9 p.m.

Thursday

P.O.W.E.R.

Corey Union, Room 209, 6 p.m.

Rainbow Alliance

Corey Union, Rooms 301-303 (Sept. 15) and Rooms 305-306 thereafter, 6 p.m.

Women of Color

Corey Union Voice Office, 6 p.m.

Political Science Association

Corey Union, Rooms 301-303, 6:30 p.m.

Caribbean Student Association

Corey Union Voice Office, 7 p.m.

Student Activities Board

Corey Union, Room 209, 7 p.m.

WSUC-FM Radio

Corey Union, Rooms 301-303, 7:30 p.m.

AGAPE

Corey Union, Rooms 305-306, 8 p.m.

News Briefs

Oct. 24 Forum in Park Center To Focus On Balanced Literacy

"Balanced Literacy" is the title of a Seven Valley Reading Council Fall 2005 literacy forum scheduled for Monday, Oct. 24.

Phyllis Litzenberger, a reading specialist at Randall School, will present the forum from 4-6 p.m. in the Park Center Hall of Fame Room. The event is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Registration is required by Thursday, Oct. 20, by contacting Erin Eckert at Smith School, 33 Wheeler Ave., Cortland, N.Y., 13045 or by calling 758-4150 or by sending an email to eeckert@cortlandschools.org.

The forum is co-sponsored by the Center for Educational Exchange, the Seven Valley Reading Council, the Cortland-Homer-McGraw Teacher Center, Cincinnatus Teacher Center and the Dryden Teachers' Center.

Registration Due for Biennial Francis J. Cheney Conference

Thursday, Oct. 27, is the registration deadline for the fourth biennial Francis J. Cheney Educational Issues Conference being held on campus Tuesday, Nov. 8.

The registration fee, which includes refreshments, buffet lunch and materials, is $30 for the public, $22 for certificate of advanced studies (CAS) student interns, and $12 for SUNY Cortland faculty and staff. To register or for more information, contact the Center for Educational Exchange at ext. 4704 or e-mail cee@cortland.edu.

Titled "Change is a Journey," the conference takes place from 8:45 a.m.-3:30 p.m. in Corey Union. Geared to school administrators, C.A.S. student interns and members of boards of education, the conference was organized by the Educational Leadership Department, chaired by Mary Kinsella.

Gene Hall, co-author of Implementing Change: Patterns, Principles, and Potholes and an internationally recognized researcher and leader in change theory, will give two different keynote addresses. They will be held at 9:50 a.m. and at 11:05 a.m. in the Corey Union Function Room.

Director of Marine Laboratory Will Present Biology Seminar on Nov. 1

The Biology Club will sponsor a seminar titled "The Cutting Edge: The Amazing Teeth of Bluefish, Barracudas, and Allies" on Tuesday, Nov. 1, at 7 p.m. in Bowers Hall, Room 109. The seminar is free and open to the public.

The seminar will be presented by William Bemis, the Kingsbury Director of the Shoals Marine Laboratory. Operating under the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Cornell University in cooperation with the University of New Hampshire in Durham, the Shoals Marine Laboratory is located on 95-acre Appledore Island, Isles of Shoals in the Gulf of Maine.

Bemis is also on the faculty in the department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology at Cornell University where he studies evolution and anatomy of marine and freshwater fishes.

For more information, contact Larry Klotz, biological sciences, at ext. 2709.

Information Session on Oct. 26 will Outline Internal Grant Opportunities

A new faculty information session titled "Internal Grant Opportunities" will be held from 5-6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 26, in the Park Center Hall of Fame Room. It is sponsored by the College Research Committee, Faculty Development Center and the Sponsored Programs Office.

Five internal funding programs will be highlighted: Faculty Research Program (FRP); Summer Research Fellowship Program (SRF); College Foundation Research Travel Grants Program (RTG); Teaching Innovation Grants, and the Faculty Incentive Grant Program (FGIP).

The session will include an overview of the programs, discussion of the criteria, networking possibilities with previous award recipients and members of the committees, and handouts of successful grant proposals.

A dinner buffet will be served. Those who plan to attend should call the Sponsored Programs Office at ext. 2511 or e-mail Pam Schroeder at pams@em.cortland.edu.

Faculty-Staff Activities

Donna K. Anderson, performing arts emeritus, delivered the keynote speech at a special series of concerts devoted to American composer Charles T. Griffes and his colleague French flutist Georges Barrere, principal flutist of the New York Symphony Orchestra (now the New York Philharmonic) and founder of the Barrere Ensemble devoted to contemporary music and dance. Anderson spoke about the developing avant-garde in New York City during the first two decades of the 20th century, highlighting Griffes' collaboration with Barrere, pianists Ferruccio Busoni and Winifred Christie, singers Eva Gauthier and Vera Janoco-pulos, dancers Adolf Bolm and Michio Ito, composers Edgard Varese and Arthur Farwell, conductors Pierre Monteux and Leopold Stokowski, and Alice and Irene Lewisohn, founders of the Neighborhood Playhouse. The Griffes/Barrere concerts were presented as part of the Maverick Concerts gala 90th anniversary season in Woodstock, N.Y., this summer, the longest running chamber music series in the U.S.

In addition, Anderson contributed the entry on Griffes for The Encyclopedia of New York State, published by Syracuse University Press this summer.

Timothy J. Baroni, biological sciences, attended the joint international meetings of the Mycological Society of America and the Mycological Society of Japan in Hilo, Hawaii, from July 30-Aug. 6, where he presented one poster, was co-author on a second poster and was co-author on one symposium presentation. Baroni presented "Arthrosporella, a Recently Rediscovered Neotropical Genus, is Phylogenetically Related to Termitomyces in the Lyophylleae" with co-authors D. L. Czederpiltz, D. J. Lodge, V. Hofstetter, and A. E. Franco-Molano. He was second author on the poster "Fungi from a Lost World in Belize: Doyle's Delight" with Lodge and Czederpiltz. Baroni was also one of 21 authors from the U.S., and other countries including Canada, China, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Japan and Sweden, that presented pooled research data on "Progress Towards Assembling the Tree of Life for the Basidiomycota." The oral presentation was given by P. Brandon Matheny from Clark University (Mass.), a postdoctoral colleague working in David S. Hibbett's laboratory.

Pete Ducey, biological sciences, and undergraduate co-authors Jamie Cerqua, Lori-Jeanne West and Monica Warner, have been informed that their manuscript "Rare Egg Capsule Production in the Invasive Terrestrial Planarian Bipalium Kewense," has been accepted for publication in The Southwestern Naturalist. The manuscript describes their observation of only the second reported case in more than 100 years of study of sexual reproduction in an otherwise asexually-reproducing, invasive species of predatory flat-worm. Recently, Ducey also gave an invited presentation titled "Invasive Worms Clashing in North American Soils" as part of the Asa Gray Seminar Series at Utica College.

David Franke, English and professional writing, recently had a paper accepted by the Conference on College Composition and Communication (CCCC) to be held next March in Chicago. He will contribute to a panel on building professional writing programs. The paper, "Wrecking a Perfectly Good Curriculum," argues for curriculum (re)development as a scholarly activity, requiring research and reflection.

Denise D. Knight, English, will present a paper titled "Gilman in Maine" at the Fourth International Conference on Charlotte Perkins Gilman in Portland, Maine, in June 2006. She will also preside over a plenary session on the conference theme, "Gilman Then and Now."

Robert Spitzer, political science, was interviewed for an hour on Michigan Public Radio's "Jack Lessenberry Show" on Oct. 5 concerning gun rights, the Second Amendment, and a bill currently before the Michigan State Legislature to extend the "castle doctrine" to the streets. Such a change would allow citizens to meet force with force if they felt themselves threatened in public places instead of safely retreating. A similar law was passed last spring in Florida.

Barbara Wisch, art and art history, chaired a session titled "Luxury Items, Chapels and Castles in Early Modern Europe," at the 16th Century Studies Conference, held in Atlanta Oct. 20-23. She also serves on the executive council as the representative of art history.

Arden Zipp, chemistry, presented a five-day institute on chemistry labs for 10 advanced placement chemistry teachers at St. Johnsbury Academy in St. Johnsbury, Vt. During the week the participants carried out most of the 22 experiments recommended for AP chemistry students and also had an opportunity to work on questions from previous AP chemistry exams.

Literacy Graduate Students to Present at Reading Conference

Graduate students Lydia Montgomery, Devon Paterson and Jolene Schrage, literacy, will be presenting at the New York State Reading Association Conference being held Nov. 2-5 in Rochester, N.Y.

They will deliver their presentation, "Opening Minds and Enhancing Lives through Selections of Children's Literature," from 1-2:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 4.

This presentation is based around book talks on collections of children's and young adult literature that, when read together, extend, contrast or illuminate an experience or perspective. Particular themes appropriate for fourth to eighth grade have been selected.

Maureen Boyd, literacy, is mentoring these graduate students and will be presenting with them at the conference.

Coming Events

Continued from page 12

Saturday, Nov. 5

Children's Museum Series: "Origami," Lin Lin, childhood/early childhood education, and her students, Children's Museum, O'Heron Newman Hall, 8 Calvert St., Cortland, 10 a.m.-1 p.m.

$ Dinner Theatre: "Hey Big Spender! The Musicals of Cy Coleman," Corey Union Fireplace Lounge, Caleion Room, and Dowd Fine Arts Center, 5-10:30 p.m. The registration deadline is Wednesday, Oct. 26. For tickets, contact the Center for Educational Exchange at ext. 4214.

$ Musical Comedy: "Sweet Charity," Dowd Fine Arts Theatre, 8 p.m.

Sunday, Nov. 6

$ Musical Comedy: "Sweet Charity," Dowd Fine Arts Theatre, 2 p.m.

Gospel Choir Festival: 20th Anniversary, Old Main Brown Auditorium, 4 p.m.

Coming Events

Monday, Oct. 24

Literacy Forum: "Balanced Literacy" sponsored by the Seven Valley Reading Council, Park Center Hall of Fame Room, 4-6 p.m. Registration was required by Oct. 20 by calling ext. 4150.

Wednesday, Oct. 26

China Documentary Film Series: "Dance With Farm Workers," followed by discussion with Tianian Zheng, sociology/anthropology and coordinator of Asian Studies, Van Hoesen Hall, Room A-14, 4 p.m.

Faculty Information Session: "Internal Grant Opportunities," Park Center Hall of Fame Room, 5-6:30 p.m.; Dinner buffet will be served. To register, call ext. 2511.

Wellness Wednesday Series: "Sexually Speaking," presented by Mary Dykeman, a family planning specialist with the Jacobus Center for Reproductive Health, Corey Union Exhibition Lounge, 7 p.m.

Native American History Month Speaker: "Mending Skins," by Eric Gansworth, Old Main Brown Auditorium, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, Oct. 27

Sandwich Seminar: "An Introduction to the Tech Transfer Pilot Program at SUNY Cortland," David Snyder, exercise science and sport studies, Memorial Library, The Bookmark, noon.

Homecoming Events: Greek Convocation, Corey Union Function Room, 6 p.m.; Lipsync at 8 p.m.

Meeting: Multicultural Leadership Cooperative, Corey Union, Rooms 204-205, 6:30 P.M.

Friday, Oct. 28

Homecoming Events: Pep rally, Dragon Olympics, Stadium Complex, 7 p.m.

Sandwich Seminar: "The Writings of Martin Luther King and Malcolm X and the American Conscience," presented by Vincent F.A. Golphin, Corey Union Exhibition Lounge, 11:30 a.m.

$ Musical Comedy: "Sweet Charity," Dowd Fine Arts Theatre, 8 p.m.

Dedication: Digital Video Analysis Software Partnership, Sport Media and Technology Learning Center Lab, Studio West, Room 128, 1 p.m. Invitation only.

Saturday, Oct. 29

Children's Museum Series: "Puppet Theater" Kim Rombach, childhood/early childhood education, Children's Museum, O'Heron Newman Hall, 8 Calvert St., Cortland, 10 a.m.-1 p.m.

Homecoming Events: C-Club Hall of Fame Induction Banquet, Corey Union Function Room, 6:30 p.m. Invitation only.

$ Musical Comedy: "Sweet Charity," Dowd Fine Arts Theatre, 8 p.m.

Sunday, Oct. 30

$ Musical Comedy: "Sweet Charity," Dowd Fine Arts Theatre, 2 p.m.

Monday, Oct. 31

Presentation: Alumni Judges Day panel discussion, Corey Union Exhibition Lounge, 4:25 p.m.

$ Halloween Glow 'N Dark Ice Skating: Alumni Ice Arena, 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Tuesday, Nov. 1

Faculty Senate Meeting: Corey Union, Rooms 301-303, 1:10 p.m.

Seminar: "The Cutting Edge: The Amazing Teeth of Bluefish, Barracudas and Allies," William Bemis, Shoals Marine Laboratory and member of the Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology at Cornell University, Bowers Hall, Room 109, 7 p.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 2

China Documentary Film Series: "Town Migration," followed by discussion with Tianian Zheng, sociology/anthropology and coordinator of Asian Studies, Van Hoesen Hall, Room A-14, 4 p.m.

Speaker: Amy Goodman, national radio talk show host, "Democracy Now," Old Main Brown Auditorium, 6 p.m.

Wellness Wednesday Series: "Balancing the Scales: Addressing Eating Disorders Issues," panel discussion led by Billie Jean Goff, counselor, Corey Union Exhibition Lounge, 7 p.m.

Thursday, Nov. 3

Community Roundtable: Panelists will discuss "How Does Healthcare Drive the Local Economy?" Park Center Hall of Fame Room, 8 a.m. Refreshments will be served at 7:45 a.m.

$ Conference: 55th annual SUNY Cortland Recreation Conference, "Leisure Fever: Catch It!" Corey Union, registration begins at 7:30 a.m.

Friday, Nov. 4

$ Conference: 55th annual SUNY Cortland Recreation Conference, Corey Union, registration begins at 7:30 a.m. Metcalf Endowment Lecture presented by Deb Bialeschki, Corey Union Function Room, 1:30 p.m.

$ Musical Comedy: "Sweet Charity," Dowd Fine Arts Theatre, 8 p.m.

Continued on page 11

The Bulletin contains official College announcements, news reports and notices of campus events. Information for The Bulletin should be sent to the Publications and Electronic Media Office, Studio West, Room B-3, P.O. Box 2000, Cortland, NY 13045.

Cortland

State University of New York College at Cortland