THE GLASS MENAGERIE
This memory play by Tennessee Williams has strong autobiographical elements. The action is drawn from the memories of the play’s narrator, Tom. Set in St. Louis in 1937, the play revolves around a young man begrudgingly supporting the family which his father abandoned. It features his painfully shy, somewhat crippled sister, whose preoccupation with a collection of glass animals draws her away from reality. Tom is a stifled, aspiring poet working in a shoe warehouse to support his mother, and sister, Laura. Set against the backdrop of the Depression, the family struggles together with reality, the past, the future, and one another.

LEGALLY BLONDE
Perennially perky Elle Woods is a girl who loves to be pampered and shop for the latest all-pink outfits (and matching handbags, of course). But don’t let this seemingly ditzy fashionista fool you, this sorority sister is smarter than she seems and doesn’t take “no” for an answer. So when her boyfriend dumps her for someone “more serious,” Elle sets out to win him back by putting down the credit card and hitting the books. Ready to revamp her image, Elle follows him to Harvard to show him just how serious she can be! Despite her penchant for malls, and makeup, Elle is no dummy and is soon showing elite Ivy League snobs a thing or two about class, confidence, self-discovery and courtroom victory.

YOU CAN’T TAKE IT WITH YOU
One family’s idea of the American dream is to make money and maintain social status. The other’s is to follow their bliss, however unconventional. What happens when the son of one family falls in love with the daughter of the other? A wily Grandpa heads the wackiest household to ever hit Broadway in Kaufman and Hart’s Pulitzer Prize-winning classic. He’s the leader of a happily eccentric gang of snake collectors, cunning revolutionaries, ballet dancers and skyrocket makers. But when the youngest daughter brings her fiancé and his buttoned-up parents over for dinner, that’s when the real fireworks start to fly.

TBA = To Be Announced
One of the biggest goals of ACE is to get students to start thinking about their futures! ACE programs are designed to open your mind to the idea of college in your future and to help you begin to dream about what kind of career you would like to have.

This spring is a great time to begin the College Search Process, which will be an integral part of your junior year. Start thinking about it NOW!

Collect information about colleges from the library, the Internet and your school counseling office.

Also this spring, your ACE Liaison will be meeting with you to review your academic progress and your participation in ACE activities.

Students who have not attended ACE events and/or are not demonstrating progress towards maintaining a B average in college preparatory coursework may be counseled to withdraw from the ACE program.

The following is a list of some ACE programs, which were available to you earlier this year. Place a check next to those you have attended and be ready to discuss them with your liaison.

2014 Summer Programs (June-Aug, 2014)
9th-12th Grd. Event ("Sch. of Thought" - Sport Media - 11/13)
Fall Theatre (Mineola Twins; Brigadoon; How to Succeed...)
Fall Regional Institutes (Lansing-10/18; McGraw-11/6)

It is our hope that you will remain committed to ACE and that we will see you off to college with the ACE Recommendation.

Good luck and stay with it!

INDEPENDENT ‘COLLEGE VISITS’

The JUNIOR Year is a great time for you and your parents to visit college campuses. Doesn’t it make sense to find out in person what the colleges you’re interested in actually look and feel like? Why wait until you’re enrolled to find out the ‘college of your dreams’ is too hilly; crowded; isolated; snowy; hot/humid, modern, rural, etc.

Don’t just look at your new school “on paper”. Check it out to see if it’s a good fit for you personally. You’ll have a better chance of doing well at college if you’re comfortable in your new surroundings.

Many freshmen are surprised to find they can’t tolerate simple things at their “new residence” such as: dorm room size, campus size, rural vs. urban settings, transportation; distance from home, etc.

On the other hand, many are also pleasantly surprised to find a college they hadn’t thought much of - is exactly “their type”.

Just call the Admissions Office for information on tours. You can even meet and talk with students there, to get their perspective on what “life” (class size, sports, on and off campus activities/entertainment, and even the weather) is really like at that campus.

Because a College Visit is an important part of preparing for admission, ACE will count it toward your total ACE Participation and as part of the ACE Recommendation review process.

If you do not have a College Visit Form, please call the ACE Office.

It’s as simple as that!
Financial Aid

Financial aid & scholarship information is freely available in H.S. counselor’s offices, libraries, and on the Internet.

Applying to colleges is one hurdle, finding out how to pay is another. Financial aid is an important piece of the college decision-making process. The paperwork itself may be even more overwhelming than the application process.

There is help: You can call the Financial Aid Office of the colleges you are applying to. Or, visit the Education Dept. WEB site: “FAFSA On The web” (www.fafsa.ed.gov). Or call: 1-800-4-FED-AID.

You don’t have to pay to apply for federal student aid, and you can even apply online.

Colleges require you to complete the FAFSA: (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) available at your school guidance office.

The FAFSA is required for all federal financial aid as well as some state financial aid programs (including New York State TAP grants).

The FAFSA should be filed after, but as close to January 1 as possible. Deadlines vary. The sooner you submit the better, in order to get available monies.

Check with the Financial Aid Office of EACH college you apply to for their specific FAFSA deadlines.

COLLEGES use FAFSA info. to help determine your Financial Aid Package (federal grants, loans, & work-study programs)

~ FINANCIAL AID AWARDS may include a federal PELL grant, a NYS TAP grant, federal Work-Study, and student Loans as well as college administered Scholarships. (Grants and Work-study do not have to be paid back.)

You then decide to accept or decline all or part of a financial aid package and MUST follow the college policies and deadlines to do so.

If you receive a private scholarship, it is important to notify the college that you will be attending, because it may change the financial aid award.

Some schools have additional requirements such as the College Board’s Financial Aid Profile and may require copies of tax returns.

Be sure to check with the colleges you are applying to for their requirements and deadlines.

~ FINANCIAL NEED is based on the PRIOR year’s tax return. If you are applying for college entrance in the fall of 2015, need will be based upon the 2014 tax return.

*However, if your financial situation is much different than the previous year, see a financial aid counselor to complete a “Special Considerations” form.

*They may be able to adjust your financial aid package.

~ AFTER sending in the FAFSA, you’ll receive a Student Aid Report (SAR) from the U.S. Dept. of Education. If you completed a paper FAFSA, you will receive a report within 4 weeks. If you completed the FAFSA via the Internet (www.fafsa.ed.gov) you will receive a report in about 2 weeks. The information from the FAFSA will be used to calculate the Expected Family Contribution (EFC).

There are calculators on the Internet that will estimate the EFC to give you an idea of how much a family is expected to contribute towards their students’ educational expenses.

Scholarship Info.

You probably know scholarships are awarded for merit in academics, or athletics. But, did you know they are also awarded based on a variety of subjects (such as ethnic background, religious affiliations and special interests or hobbies.)

Even if your grades aren’t great, don’t be discouraged: Merit doesn’t just mean grades. It can mean showing ability in other areas; “such as drumming, surfing, or horse grooming.” Count all your abilities as well as disabilities.

Utilize the application essays to give a clear idea of the kind of challenges you’ve met or overcome—not just regarding school but in life experiences.*

✓ Apply! Apply! Apply!

It’s a bit of work, but can net you extra money

✓ Check your high school’s “binders.”

A lot of scholarship information is sent directly to schools, where it’s put in binders, ask for the binders specifically.

✓ Check the sites of colleges you’re applying to.

Most colleges have scholarships for students attending their school.

✓ Use Internet databases.

Surf the web. Some databases are amalgamated lists; others ask you to fill out an application. Some are searchable by special interests. You may even apply online. If you follow the college policy, there is no fee.

Most of these types of sites are free.

REMEMBER TOO:
Your GUIDANCE COUNSELOR is your Best RESOURCE!!

FINANCIAL AID SCAM WARNING SIGNS!

How can you tell if a scholarship or a scholarship service is legitimate?

Financial Aid and Scholarship Information is Freely Available. (Guidance Offices, Libraries, and on the Internet)

* If a scholarship or scholarship service requires a fee it is probably not legitimate.

* Legitimate services offer to find scholarships that students may then apply to, but it is up to the student to apply. Scholarship services, which offers to do all the work, are not legitimate.

* Scams tell you only they can find the info. you need —for a fee.

* Avoid services that ask for a credit card number or say you are a “finalist” in a contest you know you didn’t enter.

Be sure to check out fastweb.com and/or collegeboard.com for much more College & Scholarship information.

SENIORS

Financial Aid is any grant, loan or paid employment offered to help a student meet his/her college expenses. The amount of aid a student receives is determined through federal, state and institutional guidelines.

SOME IMPORTANT THINGS TO REMEMBER:

✔ Begin collecting information about financial aid, even if you do not know where you will be attending college.

✔ File EARLY IN JANUARY for federal and state aid, as well as any aid available through your school, college, foundations, etc. Aid is awarded in most cases as the applications are received--when the money is gone, it’s gone! Take advantage of the many resources available to you as you begin your financial aid search.

✔ Attend a College Financial Aid Forms Workshop

✔ Check out the many resources available from your library or Counseling Office

✔ Visit the following WEB sites:

  - www.nysfaaa.org "Financial Aid Resources for NYS families"
  - www.finaid.org "The SmartStudent Guide to Financial Aid"
  - www.fastweb.com "Scholarships sources and individualized profile searches."

✔ Speak to your ACE liaison if you have additional questions or concerns.

There are many terms to understand and forms to file, so begin early. Good luck!

SENIOR PLANNING CALENDAR

✔ Most colleges let you know their decisions in April.

✔ If you have been accepted at one or more colleges but have not yet heard from your first choice, contact that college or ask your counselor for help in getting a decision before any non-refundable deposits are due.

✔ Look for a summer job.

✔ As soon as you have decided which college’s offer of admission to accept, let that college know. Then write thanks, but no thanks” letters to those you will not attend.

✔ If you were denied admission, see your counselor at once about alternatives.

✔ Send the acceptance deposit by the deadline specified.

✔ If you are awarded financial aid, be sure to formally accept the offer from the college you plan to attend.

See your Liaison for more details
Dear ACE Students/Families,

As we begin the second half of the 2014-15 ACE program, I hope you have had the opportunity to attend at least one of the ACE events. This spring we are offering two Regional Institutes with the opportunity to attend a variety of workshops. There will also be a school field trip for 9th graders to Ithaca College and 10th graders to TC3.

The opportunity to take a free ACT practice test will be available on Monday, January 19th (at SUNY Cortland). I hope you will take advantage of this free test. There is no restriction on grade level. 9th graders may find some of the math areas difficult because they have yet to learn the content in their high school classes but they still may take the test.

I hope you will take advantage of these programs, as well as the culture programs – college plays and gallery tour.

Please remember any college visit counts towards your ACE participation. Forms are available from the ACE office.

ACE will be completing a program evaluation this year. We may be asking you to complete a questionnaire or to provide feedback. The goal is to continually improve what is offered by ACE.

If you have any questions, please contact us via e-mail or phone.

Best wishes for a happy, healthy 2015!

Sincerely,

Carol G. Clarke,
ACE Coordinator
