

PHILOSOPHY

DEPARTMENT

MAJORS

SOCIAL PHILOSOPHY

CAREER POTENTIAL

College professor
Health service manager
Journalist
Lawyer
Marketing executive
Paralegal
Psychotherapist
Social worker

→ The department also offers minors in social philosophy and peace and conflict studies.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Social philosophy majors acquire all the skills that employers want from a college graduate — the ability to think critically, to solve problems, to articulate ideas and to read and write effectively. They also emerge with a broad cultural awareness to use in an increasingly global landscape.

READY FOR GRADUATE SCHOOL

Students continuing on to master's or doctoral degrees are prepared with a well-rounded liberal arts education. Philosophy majors typically score highly on exams that emphasize logical reasoning such as the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT).

CENTER FOR ETHICS, PEACE AND SOCIAL JUSTICE (CEPS)

The founding of CEPS in 2007 was the continuation of a growing vision in applied philosophy. SUNY Cortland's aim is to become a regional center for the study and application of philosophical principles to every aspect of life.

By the numbers

$10K

awarded in Philanthropy and Civic Engagement: Learning by Giving

→ a grant-funded course that teaches philosophy and supports local agencies

LEARN MORE

Philosophy Department
Old Main, Room 138
607 753-2016

cortland.edu/philosophy