Commencement Speakers

ERNEST LOGAN '73

Ernest Logan '73 stands out as an accomplished educator and labor leader who dedicated his career to public service.

He is president emeritus of the American Federation of School Administrators (AFSA), a national union representing America's public school administrators.

After graduating from SUNY Cortland, Logan earned a master's degree from Baruch College and taught English in New York City. He held assistant principal and principal roles, then was elected president of the Council of School Supervisors and Administrators, the union representing leaders in the nation's largest public school district.

Logan successfully helped negotiate salary increases, healthcare stability and school reforms, instituting a rating system for principals based on school performance and leadership. He also was a leading advocate for New York City's Pre-K for All program. For decades, Logan worked closely with city, state and federal officials to build bridges that enabled school administrators to excel in their roles.

In 2018, he was elected president of the AFSA. As a national representative of school administrators, he became a vice president of AFL-CIO, the largest federation of unions in the U.S.

Logan has received numerous awards from educational organizations and is vice chair of the Cortland College Foundation Board of Directors. He and his wife, Beatrice, created SUNY Cortland's Ernest A. Logan '73 Scholarship, providing tuition assistance for public school students from New York City.

Logan has been a champion of social justice throughout his career. In 2023, he was the keynote speaker at the inaugural Abraham Lincoln DeMond 1889 Day, an annual event honoring SUNY Cortland's first Black graduate.

DR. BONNI HODGES

SUNY Distinguished Service Professor Bonni Hodges is recognized as a national expert on school and community health for far-reaching work that spans local wellness programs, college athletics and international scholarship.

A Health Department faculty member since 1992, Hodges' academic background covers several disciplines. She earned a bachelor's degree in physical education and athletic training from Ithaca College, a master's in exercise science from Northeastern University and a Ph.D. in health education from the University of Maryland, College Park.

Hodges served more than 15 years as department chair while supporting many outlets in the community, from the Seven Valleys Health Coalition Board of Directors to health partnerships in local schools. Since 2020, Hodges has led the Institute for Division III Athlete Well-being and Athletic Leadership, which focuses on the unique needs of NCAA student-athletes.

Hodges is the co-author of a book, Assessment and Planning in Health Programs, and has written peer-reviewed articles for journals including Health Promotion Practice and the Journal of School Health. Her presentations have taken place at conferences for the American School Health Association, Society for Public Health Education and the American Public Health Association. She also helped establish study abroad partnerships in Ireland, England and Cuba.

Hodges was honored with the SUNY Chancellor's Research and Scholarship Recognition Award in 2005 and a SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Faculty Service in 2009. She is a six-time recipient of the university's Excellence in Research and Scholarship Award and was honored with SUNY Cortland's Outstanding Achievement in Research Award in 2014.

DR. STEVEN BROYLES

SUNY Distinguished Teaching Professor Steven Broyles of the Biological Sciences Department has earned a reputation for his dedication to undergraduate instruction, making a lasting impact from Bowers Hall classrooms to student fieldwork at the W.H. Parks Family Center for Outdoor and Environmental Education.

Broyles, who will retire in August, joined the university's faculty in 1992. He was promoted to full professor in 2004 and achieved SUNY's distinguished rank in 2020. Known for his research on milkweed and trillium plant species, Broyles' courses have covered field biology, ornithology, biology of trees and field natural history.

Broyles was awarded the SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching in 2002, the Rozanne Brooks Dedicated Teaching Award in 2012 and the SUNY Cortland Student Affairs Faculty Connection Award in 2014. His commitment as an educator often is observed when he teaches large sections of introductory biology. Broyles memorizes the names of nearly 100 students as well as personal details about them, all within the first week of class.

Throughout his career, Broyles has earned numerous National Science Foundation grants to fund his scholarship and assist in the development of new coursework. He also has mentored more than 40 students involved in undergraduate research.

Broyles has led important local tree inventories, including the initiation of SUNY Cortland's Tree Advisory Committee which helped earn recognition as a Tree Campus USA. In addition to serving multiple community boards dedicated to environmental advisory, he often speaks to local and regional groups on topics spanning agricultural sustainability, pollination biology and birds of upstate New York.

Candidates for Undergraduate Degrees

Candidates listed on the following pages completed their degree requirements in December 2023 or May 2024 or are expected to do so in August or December 2024. Candidates were required to apply for degree conferral by March 1 to appear in the printed program.

A caret symbol (^) after a name indicates the individual has self-identified as a veteran or currently serves in the military.

An asterisk (*) following a name indicates the individual has achieved a cumulative grade point average of 4.0 as of Feb. 1, 2024.

Academic Traditions

ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The processional begins with the all-university gonfalonier, who leads in the faculty, followed by the schools of Arts and Sciences, Education and Professional Studies gonfaloniers, who lead in the students. The processional concludes when the mace bearer brings in the platform party, which consists of members of the administration and faculty leadership, the College Council, visiting dignitaries and honorees.

THE MACE

The mace is a ceremonial staff used as a symbol of authority. The mace bearer precedes the platform party and places the mace on a special stand where it remains while the official proceedings of Commencement are underway. SUNY Cortland's mace, the "Torch of Learning," is made of silver and rosewood and was created by local silversmith John Marshall.

THE GONFALONS

The four bright banners carried in the academic procession are called gonfalons. The red, white, black and grey gonfalon represents SUNY Cortland; in blue, grey and burgundy it represents the School of Arts and Sciences; in blue, purple and black it represents the School of Education; and in peach and green it represents the School of Professional Studies.

The gonfalons were designed by Libby Kowalski, professor emerita of art and art history, and Kathy Maher '84. The standards were made by the late Bard Prentiss, associate professor emeritus of art and art history, and J. Eric Kroot. Materials were provided by the Gilbert and Mary Cahill Foundation and the late Rozanne M. Brooks, distinguished teaching professor emerita of sociology/anthropology.

REGALIA

Commencement lends itself to the pageantry of an academic procession rooted in medieval times. The gowns and hoods worn by faculty members, candidates for graduation and platform dignitaries distinguish the institution from which the wearer was or will be graduated, the level of the degree earned and the field of learning.

In 1985, American colleges established a standard code of academic dress, specifying three types of gowns. The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves, the gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve with the front part cut in an arc, and the gown for the doctoral degree has bell-shaped sleeves. The doctoral gown also is trimmed in velvet. The hood's inner lining, which folds out at the back and center, indicates the colors of the institution granting the degree, while the border, which comes around to the front of the neck, represents the field of learning.

The black mortarboard cap is standard. Its only distinguishing feature is a gold tassel worn by holders of the doctoral degree.

PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The silver medallion worn by the president at Commencement was designed by the late Gerald DiGiusto, professor of art and art history, and crafted by artist Linda Stewart in a project supported by the late Rozanne M. Brooks, distinguished teaching professor emerita of sociology/anthropology. It depicts the seven valleys of Cortland County.

THE HONORS MEDALLION

The graduates wearing silver medallions with red ribbons have completed the SUNY Cortland Honors Program. To complete the Honors Program, a student must take 24 credit hours of honors courses, engage in 40 hours of community service, maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.2, and complete an honors thesis during their senior year.

THE KENTE STOLE

The Kente stole is a rich, multicolored, handwoven style of cloth that originated in Ghana, West Africa, and is revered throughout the Africana world. It is traditionally worn during important national ceremonies. The colors, patterns and ideogrammatic images of the Kente stole impart information about the wearer and highlight the importance of an event or a ceremony. Similar to the academic hood, the Kente stole is relatively new to commencement ceremonies in the United States and symbolizes higher education's connection to the rich cultures, intellectual traditions and academic achievements of the Africana world.

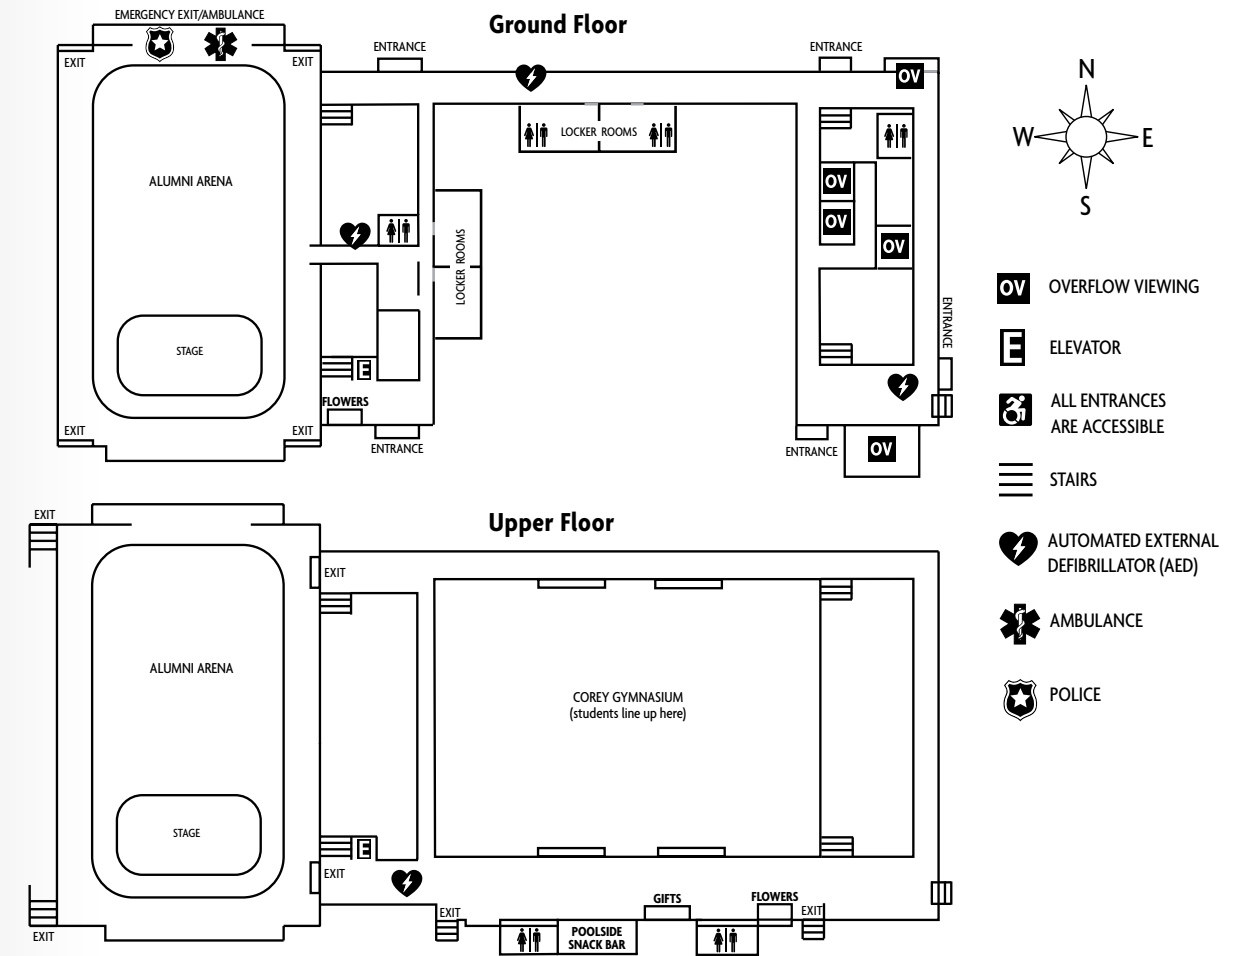

SPECIAL PERSON DESIGNATION

All graduates can designate a special person who has been instrumental in helping them achieve their higher education goals. This individual's name is read along with the graduate's name as they walk across the stage at the Commencement ceremony. Students who choose to name a special person do so when they apply for their degree.

INTERNATIONAL FLAG PRESENTATIONS

Graduating students representing countries from around the world have the opportunity to present their national flag to the provost during the Commencement ceremony. In the past, flags representing Afghanistan, Australia, Azerbaijan, Belize, Canada, China, Colombia, Cyprus, Egypt, Finland, France, Germany, Ghana, Grenada, Haiti, India, Iran, Ireland, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Kenya, Lebanon, Malaysia, Nepal, Nigeria, Peru, Poland, Republic of Congo, Romania, Russia, South Africa, South Korea, St. Lucia, Sweden, Thailand, The Gambia, Turkey and the United Kingdom were received. The 2024 ceremonies will feature the flags from Bangladesh and Chile. Flags are displayed on stage during the ceremony and afterward they are exhibited in the lobby of Corey Union and the foyer of Old Main.

Alma Mater

By lofty elm trees shaded round,
Tioughnioga near,
Our grand old Cortland College stands,
To all of us how dear!
We'll sing to thee, dear Alma Mater,
Of love that shall never die,
We'll strive for thy glory eternal,
Keep thy stainless honor high.
Inspiring each son and each daughter
The noblest aims to try,
All thy fame and thy spirit,
Thy might are ours
As the swift years hurry by.
